Surrounded by distractions, Cindy Christensen has some difficulty concentrating on his studies. On a warm Autumn day it is easy to let one's mind "Imagine."

Amy Duffy flashes a nervous smile on her way to period five class. The shortened passing times made all students aware of the need to hurry.

Making full use of a study hall period, Chris Polaski completes his math homework. Jorgen Taylor sits and waits.

Carefully shading in the details of a charcoal sketch, Valerie Wolfset displays the talent that resulted in her being elected Class Artist.

Jen McCann, Stacey Dynia and Kim Mills were hard at work prior to taking this momentary break from their academic conversation.

Kaley Johnson and Charlotte Smith complete a circuit in the Advance Placement Physics class. The female sex has begun to enroll more frequently in this once, male, dominated course. Caught unaware, Tammy Mientus sighs. Planning and organizing superlatives within the first four weeks of school can be an overwhelming undertaking.

Like all Seniors who plan on attending college, Todd Hontz was enrolled in difficult Senior courses. These meant many trips to the library.

At the conclusion of "Horton, Hears A Who", Dave Sheridan, Richard Skrzyaniarz and Jeff Pennell discuss its implications on the field of Biology.

I'm A Dreamer

On one the last warm days of Summer, Mike Morin and Jay Vivona elect to spend their lunch break in the sun.

Quenching their collective thirsts are Krissy Tobey, Dave Russell and Kathleen DeMaria. Students displayed their varied taste every lunch wave.

Scrutinizing the halls at passing is Jay Talbot.

Brian Arietti and Scott Army devote undivided attention to their Pre-Calculus test.

Some smiles should be frozen in time. Those of Lalenya Lopez and Laura Michelson earn this distinction.

But I'm Not
The Only
One.

With boggled minds and long faces, Chris Potter and Jen Forino plod, think and sweat through another "critical" class.

Angela Skowron cleans out her locker and packs her book-bag, happy to be going home for the day.

Dear Classmates:

As I reflect upon the past four years here at Fermi, I realize that saying good-bye will be a difficult task. We have shared many great times together and developed friendships that will last forever. Although the future may set us apart, we must always remember to hold onto our fond memories.

The Class of 1994 has met the challenge. Together, we have learned the right and wrong ways to attain great success. The education that we have received at Fermi promises only to take us to greater places in life. Believe in yourself and you will accomplish all that you set forth to achieve.

It has been my greatest pleasure to have been your Class President over the last four years. Although the time has come to say good-bye, we must never forget those who have helped to make our time here at Fermi a special one.

Best of luck,
Charlotte Smith

Memorable Moments

"During my freshman year, I was going out to the bus after school and it was freezing out. Being the middle of winter, the sidewalks were extremely icy. I slipped on a patch of ice and fell in front of everyone. No one even offered to help me up."

— Kari Bentz

"Kathleen DeMaria, Katie Callahan, Sheri Vella, and myself were driving down Powder Hollow. It was very icy out and Sheri lost control and we slid into a barrier and knocked it over. She was so nervous, that she forgot where her hazard button was located on her car. We were all laughing at her."

— Sara Erikson

"The most memorable experience I have had is being picked up at the Junior Social by a tour bus instead of the limo we arrived in. As I walked out of Chez Joseph, there it was! The doors opened and we all loaded in. There's nothing better than a bus!"

One High School!

Last April, in a presentation to a joint meeting of the Enfield Board of Education and the Enfield Town Council, it was recommended that the High School Administration be empowered to do a simulation schedule of Enrico Fermi High School in a town-wide grade 10 through 12 configuration.

Following that meeting, a five month process began. This entailed scheduling all Enfield students in grades 10-12 as if this high school would be on line in September of 1993.

On September 27, 1993 Principal William Cutler and Assistant Principal Richard Askin presented the results of this simulated schedule at a well attended Board of Education meeting at Harriet Beecher Stowe School.

Confessions of A Fall Coach

For the past thirteen years, I have been a coach that demands and dedication from my swimmers. The minimum I ask my to practice is 3 hours, but on most days we practice for 3½ hours. On Saturdays we practice from 9-12. I sometimes don't like get up on Saturday mornings, but when the team makes it worthwhile, it is pleasure. This year's team is the first team I've ever had take advantage of the Saturday practices. The best swimmers on the team have been together since 1985 on the town teams.

This is also the first year that we have been undefeated, we have nine in a row and it really is a good feeling. Still, I can't imagine what going to feel like if we lose. We beat Manchester, who we've been defeated and it was the greatest feeling to finally beat them after 19 years. I really can't see these guys losing this year, they have just worked too hard. I am very proud of them. The only thing that I'd like all coaches to remember is to always put the feelings of your players first, regardless of anything else.

School Activities Offer Variety . . . Getting Involved in Life

Nothing to do after school? It is hard to imagine any student feeling like this. At 2:15 in the afternoon, the Fermi corridors are teeming with activity and the classrooms pulsating with noise. Another part of the school day has commenced, afternoon activities have begun.

Students can build bodies or crafts, plant flowers or play chess. Future scholars get involved in community affairs while future business leaders learn and apply organizational skills. The world is explored through Model United Nations. Closer to home, students can campaign against drunk driving and for people. The world of physics and chemistry can be explored alongside the care and well-being of antique automobiles. The list of activities sponsored by teachers offers variety with selections for all interests. Nothing to do after school? Of course there is!

Who Is That

Pumpkin! Fermi Celebrates Halloween

Every year, Fermi students and faculty show their holiday spirit by dressing up in unusual and original costumes. This year was no exception. Costumes ranged from a pregnant nun and a French maid to a not-so-female field hockey player and a cowgirl. Walking through the hallway, one couldn't help but notice that this array of attire lightened the load of many students and added an air of festivity to the corridors. The most impressive costumes of course, were those of the faculty who loosened up their ties and let up their hemlines by showing their not-so-serious side.

Since there were no prizes given for the best costumes, we'd like to nominate the following: the scariest — Renee Rinaldi, dressed up as a witch, the most creative — Danielle Lussier, as Tarzan's Jane, and without a doubt, the most original — Mr. Ross who came dressed as himself.

"Utterly" beautiful in black and white, Erin O'Donnell "mooved" through Halloween Day at Fermi.

Jack-O-lantern in disguise, Anja Weissgerber experiences Halloween at Fermi for the first time. She appears to be enjoying her experience.

Blackout!

A Year of Missed Classes

After numerous snowdays, we were finally back in our classes, back to what we thought would be a normal day. Then, in the middle of the morning, Fermi High School went black. Many of the teachers improvised — opening shades to let in light, trying to continue with their lessons. Other classrooms, left totally in the dark, began to assemble into the gymnasium. Kids were relieved to get a break in between classes. More and more gathered into the gym while the whole Junior Class sat in total darkness during what was to be their assembly in the auditorium. Rumors that Ms. Lazurus still had students working hard were the topic of many conversations.

Although a serious problem, the February blackout was handled beautifully. The Hazardville Fire Department assisted in setting up emergency lights in the stairwells. The administration ran about trying to get the problem quickly solved so that we could continue our school day. The end result was not an early dismissal as many of the students had hoped, but a nice break before the continuation of their classes.

A friendly firefighter of the Hazardville Fire Department lights the way for students passing in the stairwell. The dark hallways were one of the main concerns of the administration.

Hazardville's Best took the time to assure many a concerned student that they would soon get to the root of the problem and the school day would continue!

Not knowing if they were to go home or not, these fellow seniors Erica Kelly, Jodi Harmon, Colette DiBatista, Jackie Bellomo, Kathleen DeMaria, Michelle McGonagle and Katie Callahan just laid back and enjoyed the break from classes.

David Ashton looks disoriented from being taken out of his favorite Physics Class. Eric Mcberg however, isn't at all distressed about the situation.

A large crowd of Fermi students begin to filter into the gym. Many of the classes without electricity had to assemble in the gym to escape total darkness.

Flames Flared As Feet Flew

Bonfire Dance A Huge Success

As Senior Class Officers rallied up the crowd, the men in red lit up the huge pile of wood! The 2nd annual bonfire dance was off to a "HOT, HOT, HOT" start. As the flames warmed most of the students and the cold nipped their noses, the rest huddled into the familiar gray stairwell. Enrico Fermi High School opened its doors to a swarm of excited students ready to "Shake, Shake, Shake, their bootie" and "get down!"

As trains of students danced off, foot stomping grew and singing voices became hoarse. People were heard exclaiming exhaustedly, "The dance again was a huge success!"

Adding a new addition to their usual clan, Jen Chenette, Heather Cyr and Candy Gehm don't seem a bit upset about Jeremy Cyr coming into the picture.

Renee Centore bumps and jumps in a solid demonstration of total dance.

Guarded by Enfield's fantastic firemen, the second annual bonfire ushers in the 1993-1994 school year. Following the sparks and flares was the first Fall dance.

A Fermi Christmas or Pictures With Santa

Twas the week before Christmas,
And all through the school,
The Fermi's family was smiling,
Even the teachers were cool

Santa was coming,
In fact there were two,
Dressed in red velvet,
With beards and spectacles too.

They sat in the lunchroom,
And for a small fee,
Their pictures were taken
With you and with me.

And for a brief moment,
Eyes twinkled and spirits were gay,
Song and laughter rang out,
Santa had come to Fermi to play.

Framed by a wall of

Young Players Learn Teamwork!

Winner One and All

This was a great year for the Junior Varsity Girls' Basketball team. Through hard work and dedication, the team compiled an exceptional record. Thanks to the great coaching tips they received from Coach Urichhio, the players all learned to work together as a team. All the players used this season as a time to prove their worth and show that they can handle varsity level play. We wish good luck to all the players and hope they can achieve their dreams.

A Season to Break Records

Jason Byrnes Breaks Fermi's Receiving Record

The members of the 1993 Fermi Football Team were collectively not the biggest, strongest or fastest players in the league, but they ranked near the top when it came to class and dedication. The Falcons were led by senior captains Lance Bullock, Jason Byrnes, Tom Dufraine and Dave Thompson, as well as junior captain Todd Hollenbach. All five displayed quality leadership throughout the season.

All-Stater Jason Byrnes shattered virtually all of the school's receiving records on his way to a 2nd consecutive campaign over 1,000 yards. He may go down as the finest player in the school's history. The other four captains did much of the blocking that made Fermi's offensive attack go. They opened the holes for junior running back Cory Ferguson, who rushed for a school record 247 yards in an impressive victory over Enfield, and who went over the 1,000 yard mark for the season.

Byrnes, Ferguson and quarterback Erik Lukach all were named to the C.C.C. East All-League team. This year's club, although young, worked extremely hard and was a class group. Thanks again to Lance, Jason, Tom and Dave and good luck in all future endeavors.

— Coach John Mayo

Captain, Todd Hollenbach and Jeff Bouchard lunge after their opponent and stop the ball to prevent a first down.

Quarterback Erik Lukach completes a hand off to an awaiting Corey Ferguson. Lukach and Ferguson worked well together throughout the season on their varied pass and run plays.

Ferguson shows some fancy footwork as he outruns and outmaneuvers Windham defender and heads for the touchdown.

On The Move

Boys' Soccer Team Outstanding

The most skilled and intelligent team in the last eight seasons, Boys' Soccer made it clear in preseason that the team meant business. It posted a 5-1 record for preseason. They carried the momentum into the regular season led behind tri-captains Todd Zenczak, Jay Bellomo and Alan Patterson.

With changes in positions, due to outstanding performances of the many sophomores and freshmen taken up on the varsity level, a surprising scoring offense was led by Todd Zenczak, a two year starting goalie, Brady Joyce, and junior Ryan Yanosy.

Todd Zenczak, Brady Joyce, Alan Patterson and Ryan Yanosy were recognized by the opposition and selected to the All-Conference/All League Team. This was the most amount of players selected from one high school team in the selection process.

The team fell one game shy of making the state tournament but hopes to make it to next year's tourney remain high!

Using her speed to gain the initiative, Sarah Tallarita maneuvers between her opponent and the ball.

Falcon Injuries Hamper Season

Senior Captains Beth Burke and Julie Raymond ended their high school careers with a win over crosstown rival, Enfield High School, 3-0. They will always be remembered as two that exemplified the attitude: "Do what is best for the team not the individual."

Although the Falcons were to return eight starters, including three All-League players from last year, injuries hindered the team in the early-season games.

The Falcon defense helped to keep several games close but the offense never gained the momentum to help the team make the run for the state tournament.

Forwards Rita DeAlba (10 pts.) and Karey Kluczewski (9 pts.) led the Falcons to a 4-9-1 season in a year of defensive excellence by most teams. Seniors Jackie Bellomo and Colette DiBattista along with captains Beth Burke and Julie Raymond played well in soccer '93.

After sacrificing their minds and bodies for four years of Fermi soccer, Co-Captains and defenders Beth Burke and Julie Raymond take a well deserved rest.

Knowing offense isn't her only job as midfielder, Colette DiBattista quickly changes into a defensive mode by containing her attacker when the situation demands this.

Imagine . . . Going All The Way A Season of Victory

We had known for three years that we would have a good swim team in 1993. What we didn't know was whether we had the chemistry and depth to win our first swimming championship. Would the veteran swimmers accept the new freshmen swimmers as well as they had in the past or would they resent them for breaking their newly set 1992 swimming records? Would the stars of this team swim well in their weaker events, coming in second or third for the good of the team? Could the captains help keep the team united and friendly with each other? The answer was YES to every question. Besides being the best raw talent that Fermi Swimming has ever had, the team was a great group to be with and around. They did everything right, at the right time. They put the team first. They had the heart to win every close race, all year. They worked hard in every practice and showed respect to the feelings of fellow teammates and their coach to the point that the season went by far too quickly. The major reason for all the success must be credited to the leadership exhibited by senior Co-Captains Becky Thayer and Angela Skowron. When things got tough, and the pressure mounted, they got tougher and helped the coach defuse problems.

The team's final record was 11-1 and the team was rated as honorable mention on the state top ten swimming tests. It was truly a season to remember led by Jill Belding and Debbie Repass. The Fermi girls' team won the CCC East title for the first time in their 20 year history. Beating Manchester, who was undefeated as League Champion the last four years. The score was 102-84 in a meet won by the pure heart of a sick Jill Belding and great come-from-behind finishes by Jen Stanger and Erin Quinlan. The classic championship meet between powers Fermi and East Hartford was decided by one point 93-92. In a true team effort, all eighteen girls put together an outstanding effort to overcome a bad case of pneumonia by Jodie Howland, and bronchitis by Erin Quinlan. Both girls swam courageous meets to help their teams become league champions.

Imagine

Girls' Cross Country: First row; Katie Noise, Sarah Peters, Danielle Lussiere, Ann Smyth
Second row; Sarah Tkacz, Erin Twitchell, Caitlin Chaffee, Coach Gene Ryczek

Knowing how and when to pace yourself is very important. Pushing herself to the limit for her team, Sarah Tkacz finally reaches the home stretch.

Conquering hills and knowing when to sprint or ease up are acquired skills obtained through experience. Sweating it out after the second mile, Senior Sarah Peter's determination is evidenced by the expression on her face.

The Joy of Running

Cross Country running is more than winning and losing. It is about self sacrifice, dedication, anger and frustration, desire respect — respect for both your body and other runners. Running is a metaphor for You can try hard, work hard, prepare well.

You can be intense and focused on a goal but you may still not reach that goal . . .”

Everyone waits expectantly for the starting gun. The anticipated “BANG” pierces the air. The race begins with Caitlin Chaffee in the lead!

Though unable to run due to an injured knee, Tracy Collins was still able to participate. Running numbers and shouting encouraging words to all, including incoming runner Ann Smyth made Tracy invaluable to her team.

Neck and neck are Sarah Peters and Captain Danielle Lussiere. Spectators are left “in the dust” as the team repeats the course for the second time.

A Valuable Experience

“A setback like a pulled muscle or illness may get in your way. This is what life is all about. It doesn't always go the way you want or expect it to. Whatever the result, you adjust to it. Either way, the experience will have some value.”

This excerpt was taken from a runner's diary and should serve as an example for our graduating runners; Dave, Danielle, Sarah, Katie and Laura. Good luck!

Directed by a season theme of "Whatever It Takes," the field hockey program was re-designed, and quite successfully, as the girls again qualified for the Class L State Tournament.

During the regular season (5-5-3), all participants improved in skill, knowledge and heart. The second team completed the season with an 8-3-1 record, assuring Fermi of future successful seasons. Capably led by Co-Captains Tricia Porter and Charlotte Smith, Fermi formed that special bond known as "TEAM" and produced intensely played games.

Seniors Debbie Croft, Kathleen DeMaria, Jenifer Forino, Kelly Hart, Jenn Hicks, Kaley Johnson, Erica Kelly, Jess Pedersen, Tricia Porter and Charlotte Smith will most certainly be missed but your enthusiasms, dedication, performances and your love of the game will remain in our hearts and minds. What you have given to Fermi Field Hockey will forever be a part of the program.

Young Team Goes All the Way

With only two Varsity players returning it looked like a rebuilding year for the girls volleyball team. But after losing the second game of the season to South Windsor, the Lady Falcons continued on their quest for the league banner with a vengeance, finishing their season with a 15-1 record and the CCC-East championship.

Kristen Falk lunges down and saves the point. Plays like this are what helped the volleyball team to have another successful season.

Work Ethic and Sportsmanship Team Demonstrates Values

The 1993-94 Fermi Boys' Basketball team won five games, including two over rival Enfield and also lost five more, each by four points or less. Despite nine game postponements to snow and the loss of even more practice sessions the Falcons played hard and with class.

Jason Byrnes covers his opponent as he searches for an opening. A good defensive game is an essential ingredient for victory in basketball.

Numerous basketball officials and many opposition coaches commented on Fermi's work ethic and sportsmanship. Nobody in our Varsity program received a technical foul. Much of the credit goes to Captains Jason Byrnes and M.V.P. Jon Lydecker along with fellow Senior and the team's Most Improved Player, Mike Hatcher.

This team was a pleasure to coach because it consistently worked very hard and was made up of positive and quality people. We all wish nothing but the best for our three seniors and thank them for their vital contributions.

During a time-out, Coach Mayo outlines strategy for the remainder of the game.

On the offensive, Co-Captain Jon Lydecker jumps with his opponent to capture the rebound.

Commitment

Hard Play Creates Excitement on Court

Commitment, as defined by Webster's, is a pledge or a promise. Twenty girls comprised the 1993-94 girls' basketball team and upheld their sense of commitment, pride and honor to play for Fermi High. They played hard, had fun and created some excitement on the court. There were some close games that could have qualified this team for post season play.

Shauna Farrell aligns ball and basket prior to a free throw.

Concentration is a major factor in accurate shooting. Prior to game, Sara Erikson practices jump shots and demonstrates her ability to focus on the net.

For a team to be successful a nucleus of players must develop together. Only two members of the senior class, team captains, Sara Erickson and Kathy DeMaria, committed their time for four years. It is this desire to use their athletic abilities, improve upon them in practice and work for a common goal of team play that make these two players stand out.

Will you be able to relate your sense of commitment to your school, family and community in the future?

After releasing the ball, Shannon Crough watches its trajectory down the court.

Prior to each game, Coach DeRose carefully lays out her strategy with her players. Team work is essential for a successful game outcome.

Bringing Home the Banner

This year has held many changes for the cheerleading squad. While learning to work as a new team, we also had to learn to work together with our new coaches, Andrea and Chris. All the hard work paid dividends when Fermi's first cheerleading banner was hung up in the gym. As the returning CCC East regional champions, we hope the success of this season carries through to competition. Hopefully, the banner in the gym will not be the last but the first of many cheerleading victories.

Players Qualify for All League

With hard work and dedication, the Fermi Wrestling Team turned out an overall record of 10-5. Todd Cote and Lance Bullock qualified for All-League. The team came in 10th place in the Class L State Championship. Individual honors were won by the following: Rob Merrill coming in at 3rd place in the 95 lb. weight class, Todd Cote, 5th place in the 103 lb. weight class, Nick Macsata, 4th place in the 112 lb. weight class and finally, Lance Bullock finishing in at 2nd place for his 189 lb. weight class.

It was a successful season for all. Senior Captains Todd Cote, Lance Bullock, Tom Sarantonio and Nick Macsata were exceptional leaders and will be missed next year.

A Championship Future

Enrico Fermi/Enfield High Team Has Great Season

The Boys' Swim Team was supposed to win only three or four meets but won seven in the end. Of the four losses, two were very close. Fermi scared three time league champ East Hartford and was touched out of five close races at Manchester.

The team was led by Senior Co-Captain Dan Whinnem of Enfield and Matt Noto of Fermi. 1994-95 Captain Ben Steverman led the team in practice and had them taking the first step up to hard 7,000 yard practices. The next three years held little promise, but hard work by Steverman as well as Fermi's four Amigo's, Sophomores Ben Povak, Tim O'Connell, Scott Cowles, and Sean Walsh paid off. The team had a hard working core which pushed new swimmers toward a possible championship future. Jessie Young will be the league pre-diver next year along with Steverman, Cowles and Orefice. Butterfly and IMJ. Sean Walsh will be the leagues best in breaststroke. Jessie Young is also strong in backstroke and with the crop from the Dolphin's, the team is coming on strong!

Senior Tri-Captains Lead Team

This year's Fermi Falcons Ice Hockey Team was a young and inexperienced one. With only four returning seniors, no one expected the Falcons to pose a serious threat to any teams. However the Falcons posted a respectable 8-11-0 record.

The Falcons were led by senior tri-captains Brian Schermerhorn, Mike Kennedy and Ken Labak, leading scorers Neil Kluczowski and sophomore Matt Vacon and goalie Garrett Vose. These six players along with the rest of their teammates led themselves to another Division I State Tournament berth.

With the loss of only four players, and a very strong core of returning players, the 1994-95 Falcons should be a top contender for another CCC East Championship.

Captain Brian Schermerhorn controls the puck and succeeds in keeping it from Rockville's defense.

With thirty-one inches of snow in the month of January, the trails and slopes of local ski resorts enjoyed the best ski conditions in years. As a result, Fermi's Ski Club bundled up and skied in record numbers. With the exception of a few rather frigid nights that tested even the most hot-blooded skier, the skiing was exceptional and all members relished every inch of the white blanket that covered the slopes of Berkshire East.

Imagine: Working Together

This year the Sabath M. Nigro of the National Honor Society had its largest membership ever. The group of 28 worked hard towards upholding the society's goals: to give back to our community, promote leadership, and develop character among our fellow students.

Through various fundraisers such as a bowl-athon, candy sale and Hershey hugs and kisses for Valentines Day, we managed to donate money to needy charities such as the Enfield Woman's Shelter. National Honor Society members strived hard this year to make the school a place where we all work together.

We, the senior members leave the next generation of NHS with a full treasury and lots of fundraising ideas. We hope that they have as much fun as we did.

Fermi's Crazy Scientist

It Takes One, To Know One.

Are all scientists crazy? Well maybe they all aren't but three prime examples are our very own Mr. Cherry, Mr. Joly and Mr. Depino. With their wacky experiments and unusual sense of humor, they have become three of the most popular teachers among the students at Enrico Fermi High School. Aside from their everyday teaching in a classroom, they also devote their time to organizing clubs for those who have an added interest in the sciences.

Chemistry Club really exposes kids to the lighter side of chemistry while still teaching them valuable lessons. The Chem club made T-shirts and went around to elementary schools to teach the little kids all about atoms and molecules and whatever  $H_2O$  is.

Physics Club draws participants from all the levels in physics, they just want to have fun and 'phun' is what they get. From constructing marble roller coasters and a working model to building lego CP-1 reactors for museums and institutes. They were also seen riding the hovercraft up and down the halls of Fermi, a favorite of many.

Through these two clubs, science in Fermi is really brought alive! Many of us owe a lot to these teachers for their time, dedication and support.

Partners Laura Turculet and Katie Noyes display their first place winning car. Physics students built their own automobile and competed for the honor of being the most accurate.

The Faces Of . . .

Cropping photos is not as easy as it looks. After six months of practice, Kim demonstrates exceptional skill.

Hunting for faces among the pictures of the past consumed endless hours of Jerrod, Katie and Abbey's seventh period Year-book class!

... Traces Imagine All The People

"Imagine" a yearbook with face after face of friends, classmates and teachers. "Imagine" each senior having visual reminders of their high school years. "Imagine all the people" in pictures. "If you can," you have captured the theme of Traces 1993-1994. Collages visually portray this theme from cover to cover. Their creation entailed hours of picture picking, picture trimming and picture pasting. The finished product is a book of faces that impacted on the high school years of all the class of 1994.

The staff of Traces wishes to thank every individual who assisted them in the assembly of this yearbook. A special note of gratitude is due Mr. Yankee and Future Business Leaders of America for donating from their picture portfolios.

Once again Mr. Boucher and his Distributive Education students deserve applause for their labors, selling and laying out the advertisement pages of the book.

As difficult as it may be for many to realize, a world exists farther than the borders of our town, our state, and even our country. We may see this strange, foreign world on the five o'clock news, or read about it in newspapers, but seldom do we value it as more than just a mythical place quite distant from the immediate spectacles around us. Several students from Enrico Fermi High School made the attempt to bring this remote world a little closer to home.

On February 4th and 5th forty-seven Fermi students participated in the 45th annual Model United Nations held at the University of Hartford. This Model United Nations was composed of over five hundred students representing thirty-nine high schools.

This event was the culmination of several months of work and research undertaken by the Fermi students. Back in September, students embraced the titles of representatives from Yemen, Djibouti, Colombia, Finland, and Turkmenistan. Research about these nations began, aided by a trip to the real United Nations in New York. Several students met with Mission diplomats to gain further insight on their respective countries. Other preparations included keeping up on current events and studying the United Nations charter.

At the Model United Nations session, students debated four major issues: Role of UN and Peace Enforcement, Competition for Development Aid, Ethnic Conflicts, and Balancing Environmental Concerns and Economic Development.

A HELPING HAND

Each year, Fermi homerooms unite to collect bars of soap for the people of Ocotal. Valerie Braswell was one student who contributed to this school wide effort.

Mangrove seedlings donated by "Friends of Ocotal" are prepared for transplanting. These will eventually contribute to the economy of the region. At maturity the bark, stems and leaves all can be utilized by the people of Ocotal.

The library display case presents examples of the wide array of school supplies for Ocotal. These were made possible through the efforts of Fermi's F.B.L.A.

Fermi Family Make a Difference In the Lives of Others

For the past several years, Fermi students have been providing assistance to Ocotal, Nicaragua. Orchestrating these efforts was science teacher and POPS advisor, Mr. Yankee, who involves all school clubs in his endeavors. Donations of materials and money were coordinated through the Connecticut Friends of Ocotal.

Highlighting this year's fundraisers were donations from POPS and Senate. Fermi's Future Business Leaders of America contributed dinosaur and fossil educational materials, while the Distributive Education Club conducted a "Pennies for Ocotal" drive for the purchase of health teaching aids. Spanish classes received letters and sent holiday greeting cards, while French students sent homemade natural history instructional materials. Finally an "Ecology for Enfield and Ocotal" fundraiser conducted by POPS in March purchased books to assist with the reforestation project in this town.

This year the children and teachers of Fermi adopted Escuela Hermanos Zamora (Elementary School) and El Instituto Nacional de Segovia (Regional High School). Students and teachers in these schools will greatly appreciate and remember the donations of the Fermi Family for many years. All who participated can take great pride in knowing they have made a difference in the lives of many needy people.

Teachers and students unpack and display Christmas donations of pencils. Pencils are needed by most children in the local schools and are in short supply. Without donations, many could not attend school.

Imagine: A Club For All Interest

Planning parties, planning futures or just in the mood for a friendly game of billiards, Fermi's Clubs offered a selection to interest students of all persuasions. If you craved for politics, you could witness it "Close-Up." If living organisms of all descriptions inspired your intellectual curiosity, Mr. Kouba (a.k.a. Bob Redford) offered guidance. If you were concerned with the tragedy caused by drunk driving, SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving) presented an avenue to dispense information as well as a helping hand. Fermi's array of after school clubs was diversified, offering a club for all interests.

And The Band Marched On From The Big "E" to Orlando

Among the busiest and most visible activities at Fermi continues to be the Marching Band. Starting with the Eastern States Exposition, it paraded through the Four Town Fair, Columbus Day, Veteran's Day, Memorial Day and St. Patrick's Day. The band also appeared at several local festivals including the Peach Festival and Apple Festival. Despite all this, they also entertained at Saturday football games throughout the season, celebrated Christmas with a Holiday Concert, and welcomed Spring with a concert in May.

Among this year's major highlights were the Eastern Marching Band Competition (E.M.B.A.) in Norwich and the E.M.B.A. Championships in West Haven. The year culminated with the band trip to the All American Music Festival in Orlando, Florida. A good time was had by all!

A Christmas of Song

The blending of voices in harmony by both Fermi's Chorus and Choir has always been one of the most enjoyable activities offered to students at Fermi. This year these groups surprised and delighted the entire student body on the last school day before the holidays. In unison they paraded through the corridors delighting all with Christmas favorites. Those whose spirits were already filled with excitement found themselves singing and smiling. Those who still retained a touch of "Scrooge," had their spirits lifted.

Other activities in which the chorus participated included a concert at the Hartford Civic Center and Asnuntuck Community College. An evening Christmas show was presented to parents and friends. Finally the Show Choir traveled with the band to Orlando, Florida, in April.

Gentlemen Prefer Blondes

The Fermi Lamplighters had a busy season this year. In October, they staged "Juvie," a one act drama about young people in a Juvenile Detention Center. This was held as a benefit for the DARE program in Enfield, and the Lamplighters were happy to see $520 go to this worthy cause.

This spring, we chose to do a light-hearted comedy. "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" was performed despite inclement weather. Snowstorms caused the Lamplighters to lose several rehearsals and one performance, but they still managed to pull off a great production with a lot of laughs.

The Lamplighter officers Lauren Estvanik — President, Danielle Lussier — Vice President, Sara Hilinski — Secretary, Erin Verrengia — Treasurer, and Kristin Falk — Historian, would like to thank the entire cast and crew for their hard work and commitment. It was a worthwhile effort, and a great time. Remember us as those who made you laugh, and those who made you cry.

The World of Marketing

Active Club Encourages Involvement

The Marketing Program's youth organization, DECA, had a successful year as a result of well-planned activities, workshops, and leadership conferences.

Alan Patterson was elected president. Elected vice-president was Sandi Duggan, secretary, Jackie Bellomo, treasurer, Matt Noto, and historian, Amy Duffy.

The newly elected officers welcomed incoming juniors at the annual DECA installation luncheon attended by 75 new members at The Olive Garden Restaurant. Julie Tuomala, 92/93 and Jennifer Sever, 92/93 transferred the responsibilities of each respective office to the newly elected officer team. The candle-light installation program was followed by a luncheon for all DECA members in which Junior representatives, Stacie Avgoustakis, Kevin Cournoyer, and Katie Usher were elected.

Soon thereafter, all officers attended the first annual Gold Conference held at the Aqua

Turf Restaurant in Southington. All members participated in various leadership activities.

In late October, all members participated in the Halloween scavenger hunt. Many teams were sent out to find 40 unusual items. The winners received Champion sweatshirts.

Fermi DECA was represented at the annual North Atlantic Regional Conference (NARCON) held in Toronto, Canada by President Alan Patterson, Vice-President Sandi Duggan, FBLA President Lisa Improta, Amy Blackburn and junior Kelley McGuire.

In addition, DECA operated the concession stand at all home football games, held the annual Fermi Photo Contest, Marketing II held its sales/advertising for Fermi Yearbook and Sports Programs with top sales person, Christina Turgeon, selling over $1,500.00 of advertising space, and the Marketing II students ended their job-coop programs with the annual Employer Appreciation Luncheon, held at Figaro's Restaurant.

Greeting the children on Trick or Treat Street were Hawaiian beauty Jen Bonafilia and Karen Tiroletto.

At the end of October, the Fermi FBLA officers gathered together to announce the induction of the new members into FBLA. # Busy Business

Students Actively Participate in Community

We started off the year with our 7th annual Fall Craft Fair. Over 100 crafters filled our halls and gym. With the help of our membership the event was a great success. Also we held our 7th annual "Trick or Treat Street" on October 31. It was held in conjunction with the Enfield Park and Recreation Department. Members visited the Enfield Nursing Home for Thanksgiving to share some holiday spirit with the residents. The members also wrote responses to "Santa's Letters," written by first graders from Eli Whitney and Nathan Hale elementary students. In December the 3rd annual Christmas Party was held for the children at the Connecticut Receiving Home in Warehouse Point. Activities included games, distribution of gifts donated by local business and a visit from Santa Claus. During National Education for Business Week Francis "Roxy" Burke came and spoke to the FBLA membership. FBLA also planned a major project with the local business in establishing a "Partnership with Business" with a "recycling" of business products. Valentine's Day and St. Patrick's Day carnations were sold, with the money benefitting the Hole-in-the-Wall Gang and Loaves and Fishes. The member achievements and efforts were recognized as they successfully placed at the Connecticut Leadership Conference competitive events, FBLA was also recognized as a GO FOR THE GOLD CHAPTER by the National office.

P.O.P.S.

The Power of Being Positive

The promotion of Fermi School Spirit & Active Involvement were central themes of the P.O.P.S. program this year. In September, the third annual homeroom spirit banner/mini-poster contest produced creative and colorful positive artwork focusing on the P.O.P.S. goals of successful achievement and high expectations. Following tradition, winners received a surprise of munchkins and juice.

The fifth annual "Fermi Fight Song Contest" once again opened with P.O.P.S. advisor Mr. Yankee providing his rendition of the Fight Song on the school's new PA system. Several homerooms and period four classes took up the challenge, with a Pizza Party going to Mrs. Bueker's victorious A.P. French class.

P.O.P.S. and Senate joined efforts to help the needy with their annual collections for the Enfield Food Shelf and over 600 bars of soap and 4,000 festively wrapped pencils for Ocotol, Nicaragua.

Homeroom Coordinators Lori Nadeau, Jen Gamble and Melusia Eng

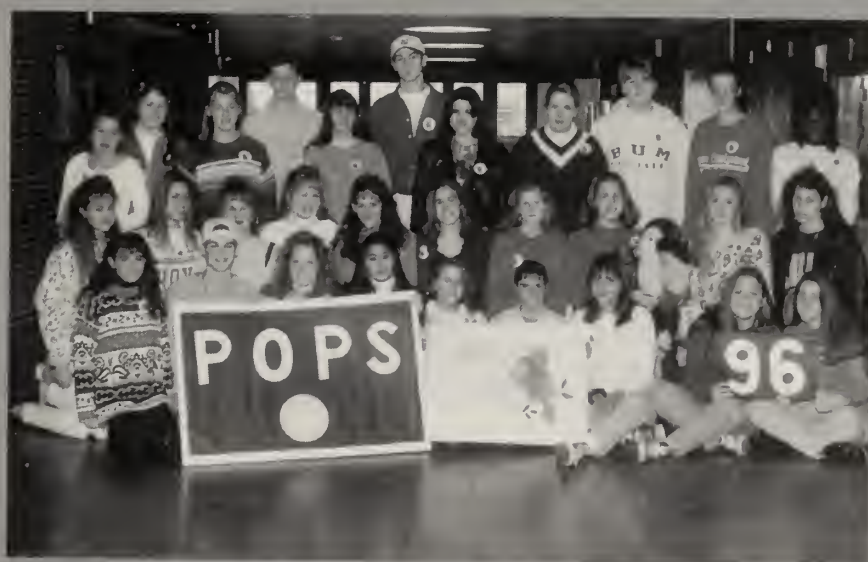

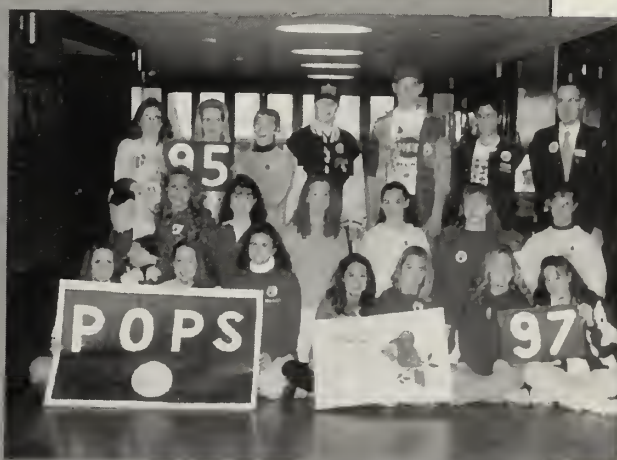

Additionally, several P.O.P.S. stickers were distributed to homeroom coordinators, who played a vital leadership role in helping their fellow students take part in the many and varied contests & activities. P.O.P.S. coordinators distributed special "No Smoking" stickers as part of the American Cancer Society's Great American Smoke-Out, and produced a large display recognizing Fermi Video Yearbook Club's winning entry in the state-wide competition.

The "Student of the Month" recognition program was coordinated with the staff and Fermi Graphics Lab. Numerous photos of student activities, sporting events, concerts, and classroom instruction were displayed in showcases, with newspaper clippings featuring Fermi accomplishments. Fermi's P.O.P.S. program earned special recognition, including a photo of students & banners, in the P.O.P.S. International Newsletter, distributed to educators in all 50 states and over 40 foreign countries.

Student and staff participation in the P.O.P.S. program helped to make this a positively successful year while promoting the sense of caring and school spirit which is a hallmark of the Fermi Family.

Over 4000 pencils were donated by the Fermi Family for the children of Ocotul.

LET A GREAT ITALIAN WINE AND DINE YOU.

At The Olive Garden, dinner is just what you'd expect from a great Italian. It's fresh homemade pastas, delicious entrees and winning combination platters. It's great wines you can enjoy by the glass. And best of all, it's all affordable. So come let a great Italian make your dinner — and your night.
